RE: MB Docket No 04-233

Dear FCC:

I am very concerned about the plan to expand Low Power FM stations. I'm a listener and supporter of K-LOVE radio. From what I understand, if the FCC expands this service, they will take priority over my current FM stations.

I am deeply troubled by the fact I may lose the one and only radio station I listen to. I believe I am not the only one who feels this way. There are hundred of thousands of people all over the country who listen to K-LOVE. How do you justify taking these translator stations away from wonderful, child friendly radio?

Please leave our FM translators alone, K-LOVE is a valuable resource for so many families. We rely on K-LOVE for emotional and spiritual support daily. Without it, I don't know where we can get the kind of service this station provides. I'm positive it won't come from LPFM stations. Can you assure me my children will be able to listen to these stations? The only station I trust with my family is K-LOVE. Please don't take that away from us.

My K-LOVE station in Santa Clara, CA is heard on 91.9.

Sincerely,

Margaret White
